PARENT-CHILD INTERACTION THERAPY

When parent-child relationships are strained by difficult child behaviors such as defiance, aggression, and tantrums, PCIT may be able to help.

- ✓ Children ages 2-7 and their parents/caregivers
- ✓ An evidence-based, short-term intervention, with improvement shown within 3-4 sessions
- ✓ Parenting skills are taught to address behaviors of concern during play-based sessions with live coaching (parents wear an ear-bud, while therapist observes from another room)
